When I look to God above, my heart gets filled with love. I find a friend and share God's Word with them, and step by step sharing God's Word knows no end. One by one, heart by heart, that's the way to start; God gives to me, I give to you, and one by one others will know His love, too! One by one, heart by heart, that's the way to start; God gives to me, I give to you, and one by one others will know His love, too! One by one, heart by heart, that's the way to start; God gives to me, I give to you, and one by one others will know His love..... One heart by heart.
